

BUNNY ROMERO'S WHITE HOUSE ADVENTURE: THE WHOLE MEGILLAH!

WRITTEN BY
Margie Blumberg

ILLUSTRATED BY
Renée Andriani

"A spirit of fun pervades the text and the pictures. . . . celebration is the dominant mood. . . . Funny [and] warm . . ."

—KIRKUS REVIEWS

"There's lots of welcome diversity in the imagined White House and Bunny's class, and the intersection of Bunny's identities is treated casually, as is her pride in her heritage in this peppy . . . tale."

—ASSOCIATION OF JEWISH LIBRARIES REVIEWS, SHOSHANA FLAX, THE HORN BOOK, INC, BOSTON, MA, FEB/MARCH 2019

When Jewish immigrant Bunny Romero

learns that her second-grade class will be visiting the White House the day before Thanksgiving, she jumps for joy. Now she is sure that her dream will come true: to eat her favorite cookies—her Mexican nana's hamantashen—right there in the White House kitchen. Then she'll really feel at home in America!

So what happens when Bunny discovers that the kitchen is not part of the tour? Find out in this delightful rhyming tale, lightly sprinkled with Spanish, Yiddish, and Hebrew, about a day that Bunny—and everyone else at the White House, including the first female president—will always remember!
